I'm a first year Architecture student. I have held positions in boards previously, being a trustee for my local youth council, a rotary club, and my town's development trust. I have experience working in policy and procedures groups through my time as a Member of the Scottish Youth Parliament

I'm offering myself to the position under these promises:

- Better communication. Communicating with our students about what is happening at the union, what each event is, how these are ran, what the board of management do and how the Union is run. Leaflet drops and heavy social media focus on events would fulfil this.
- Welfare signage. Signposting in the union where to receive welfare support, where the safe space is, how to leave the union and the provisions it has in place. Drunk students often find it hard to locate these facilitates and this would allow them to access support they require.
- Consistent themed nights. Too often has there been themed nights at the union that end up barely playing songs that match the theme. Going that step further to understand the assignment and make the theme the focus of the night is what I plan to do.
